

SARAH ABOUELELA

917-495-8111
abouelelas@gmail.com
1 Kimball Circle
Westfield, NJ 07090

PROFILE

Teaching is one of the most rewarding professions and I was so proud to be a part of it. I held an engaging classroom environment that was fit for all students and their learning styles. Students developed as learners and progressed with positive reinforcement. As a potential full stack developer, it will be possible to join both worlds of education and technology to benefit students in this ever changing world.

EXPERIENCE

Volunteer, Various schools in NJ — 2010-Present

Implemented new ideas and assisted with programs, events and activities organized by the Parents Association, school and classroom teacher to support student success. Improved on interpersonal and collaborative skills while working with administrators, staff and fellow parents in school. Served as VP for a 2 year term during 2015-2017 on the PA and was in charge of various student focused school events. In February 2020 I was a co-chair in the auction for the annual fundraiser and raised money for the school and services provided for students.

Christ the King Regional High School Middle Village, NY — 2002-2007

Planned, prepared and deliver instructional activities in Italian and Spanish that facilitate active learning experiences. Developed schemes of work and lesson plans. Differentiated instruction and teaching methods to support all students' learning styles. Implemented use of relevant technology to support instruction.

EDUCATION

Brooklyn College, New York, Bachelor of Arts, 2001

Major: Italian/Computer Science - GPA 3.6

Internships: AURORA Teaching Program — 1998-2001, Senior Internship— Website edited in Italian and HTML — 2001

SKILLS

Frontend: HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Backend: Node.js

CERTIFICATIONS:

RUTGERS CODING BOOTCAMP CERTIFICATE — COMING SOON